To all African universities and institutions of tertiary education,

RE: INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE IN MOOT COURT COMPETITION

The African Court on Human and Peoples' Rights invites all African universities and institutions of tertiary education to apply to participate in the African Court Moot Court Competition. The competition is being organized under the aegis of the African Governance Architecture (AGA), the continental framework for the promotion of good governance in Africa.

The objectives of the Moot Court Competition include to educate future leaders on the African Human Rights System and African Governance Architecture; to create links and support networks between African institutions of higher learning interested in African Union studies; to assess and develop new strategies for conflict management and prevention and to improve the understanding and appreciation of the workings of the African Union.

The finals will be held at the seat of the African Court in Arusha, Tanzania from 30 November – 3 December 2015. The African Court will cover the travel and accommodation expenses of selected finalists.

More information may be found in the attached advert or on the website of the Court.

Deadline for applications is Friday 3 October 2015.
